PESSIMISTIC FUTURE OF EUROPEAN POLITICS

IRRECONCILABLES MAKE MUCH OF HOUGHTON TALK

LATTER SAID EUROPEAN STATES-MEN ARE RETURNING TO OLD BALANCE OF POWER

FIREWORKS STARTED IN THE
SENATE BY SENATOR BORAH
AND OTHERS

By LUDLOW DENNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 23.—Advisability of introducing a resolution calling upon Secretary of State Kellogg for information concerning the pessimistic picture of European politics attributed to Ambassador Houghton of London, was considered by senate irreconcilables today.

Some members of the irreconcilable group believed that it would be well to seek public information from the department relating to incidents of the recent League of Nations council collapse at Geneva and the manner in which the Locarno pact is being worked out.

The irreconcilables do not intend to let the issue rest with direct allegation imputed to Houghton, that European statesmen are returning to the old balance of power and secret agreements systems. They intend to use Houghton's information in attempting to prevent American entry into the world court, acceptance of the council invitation to discuss American court reservations at Genoa and the League proposal for a new disarmament conference.

They started their fireworks in the senate when Senators Borah, chairman of the foreign relations committee; Hiram Johnson, republican, California; Moses, republican, New Hampshire, and Shipstead, farmer laborite, Minnesota, all irreconcilables, credited the truth of Houghton's statement and demanded that the public be informed of all information in the hands of the department concerning them.

Meantime persons close to President Coolidge predicted that the administration would stand by its ambassador.

If the White House authorizes a statement to appease French resentment, it will reaffirm American friendship for France but will not deny the reported Houghton charges that immediate disarmament is hopeless because of the European alliances, according to these persons.

CLAIMED SENATE RESERVATIONS PLAIN ONES

Washington, March 23.—(UP)—President Coolidge thinks it will be unnecessary for the United States government to accept the invitation to the special League of Nations conference to discuss the American world court reservations.

The senate reservations were plain and apparently require no further elucidation, it was said at the White House today on behalf of the president.

It was added that a final subscription, however, would await careful consideration of the official invitation when received.

Minister Hugh Gibson will return to Switzerland as head of the American legation to the League's preliminary arms conference, opening May 18, it was said.

Gibson's probable military associates on the delegation were given as Major Generals Harry A. Smith and Dennis Nolan and Rear Admirals Hilary P. Jones and A. T. Long.

They will purchase supplies from a Canadian post.

Lemphkin, an old timer, was a prospector in the Klondike rush, 15 years ago.

CRIMINALLY RECKLESS TO BE RESTRAINED

MUST BE DRIVEN FROM STREETS AND HIGHWAYS OF NATION

TO MAKE PATHS SAFE FOR THE
LAW ABIDING MOTOR-
ISTS

By S. P. HOLLINGSWORTH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 23.—The criminally reckless must be driven from the streets and highways of the nation to make those paths safe for law abiding motorists, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, opening the second conference on highway safety here today, said.

Better laws, meeting uniform requirements, were needed but they were of no benefit without the proper enforcement, Hoover stressed.

"Without drastic enforcement, without certain and sure punishment for the willful violator of the law, without some method of court procedure, by means of which the criminally reckless, the negligent and the incompetent can be driven from the use of the streets and highways by means of the operation of that law, the time that has been occupied in its drafting has been wasted," Hoover said.

More than 1,000 delegates were represented at the conference, including the official representatives of 43 states designated by the governors in response to the call of President Coolidge.

Six general reports were submitted and will form the basis of discussions looking toward reduction of the accident toll in the United States to traffic congestion. Last year 23,900 persons were killed and 600,000 injured in traffic accidents.

Martin today received summons to appear at the trial which will be held before two evangelists of the denomination and one member of the board of trustees. He is accused of conduct unbecoming a member of the church because he kept his community recreation house open on Sunday and permitted chewing gum slot machines to be operated in it.

W. DESMOND TAYLOR MURDER MYSTERY MAY NOW BE SOLVED

ASA KEYES, PROSECUTING AT-TORNEY, INDICATES TO UNITED PRESS

SPENT THE DAY IN CONFER-ENCES AT DETROIT,
MICH.

By FOSTER EATON
Copyright, 1926, by United Press

Detroit, Mich., March 23.—The William Desmond Taylor murder mystery is nearer a solution today than at any time since it occurred in the former movie director's studio at Hollywood early in 1922, Asa Keyes, prosecuting attorney of Los Angeles, indicated in an interview with the United Press.

"We are making real progress," Keyes admitted as he left Detroit after a day spent in conferences with officials and in interviews with persons whose identity he declined to reveal.

While he denied that his trip here with Harold L. Davis, chief of the Los Angeles homicide bureau, had any connection with the case, Keyes conceded that much favorable information had been collected since he left Los Angeles more than a month ago. During the trip he visited New York.

"One of the first things we intend to do on our return to California is to question Mabel Normand in connection with this case," he said. The screen star's name has figured prominently in several investigations of the murder.

Keyes would not discuss here the nature of information sought from Miss Normand, but made no effort to conceal his belief that she gave him the "slip" when he attempted to see her while in New York. Miss Normand left New York while he was there, he said, and is now in Hollywood.

"She will have to talk when we return," Keyes said, "and we shall call her to the prosecutor's office for that purpose."

Keyes and Davis expect to reach Los Angeles early next week. In view of his denial that Detroit had any connection with the case, it was assumed the unidentified persons he saw here may have journeyed to Detroit for the sole purpose of conferring with him.

Keyes had nothing to say on whether arrests were imminent in the case or whether he expected an early major development. But, he frankly admitted, "we are making real progress," while Chief Davis, pointing to several brief cases, jokingly remarked the documents they held "probably would make good reading."

The murder of William Desmond Taylor, famous movie director, has baffled authorities for four years.

Taylor's body was found in the living room of his apartment in the fashionable Westlake district of Los Angeles. He had been shot and cigarette stubs cluttered a table close by the body, indicating visitors had been at his home not long before the fatal shooting.

Investigation revealed Mabel Normand, screen actress, had been with the director earlier in the evening. She told her story many times to officers, but threw no light on the case.

It also was revealed that Mary Miles Minter was a close friend of Taylor, but she could not help untangle the crime.

Many theories have been advanced on the murder, but none have worked out. One concerned the discharged secretary, Edward Sands, who disappeared shortly after the murder and has never been found. Another pointed to the drug ring, which was operating in Hollywood at the time and which Taylor fought vigorously.

Los Angeles, March 23.—(UP)—Los Angeles county prosecutors declared today they were nearing a solution of the murder of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director.

"We do not know the nature of the evidence that District Attorney Asa Keyes has turned up in the east, but we understand he has made important discoveries," one of the prosecutor's lieutenants said. "That linked with the evidence we already have may mean the solution of this case, which we have never relented in prosecuting."

Chicago, March 23.—(UP)—Asa Keyes, prosecuting attorney of Los Angeles, came to Chicago today from Detroit to continue his quiet investigation. (Continued on page 8)

ACTION ON MURDER CHARGE DELAYED

UNIVERSITY TAXICOLOGISTS EX-AMINE ORGANS OF GIRL

Fairmont, Minn., March 23.—Action on the murder charge against Mrs. Esther Atz was delayed today while University of Minnesota toxicologists examined the digestive organs of her two year old daughter, Florence, who died May last.

Mrs. Atz is under arrest on a warrant charging her with the murder of Raymond, her five year old son. The two children died under similar circumstances, according to authorities, and University experts reported finding strychnine in the boy's organs.

If the report of examiners shows poison caused the convulsions of which Raymond died, a special grand jury panel will probably be called to consider evidence for indictment.

REICHSTAG ALSO STANDS FIRM FOR DAWES PLAN

VOTE TODAY IS EXPRESSION OF CONFIDENCE IN STRESE-
MANN'S ACTIONS

MEMBERS VOTE AFTER VON TIR-
PITZ ASSAULTED LEAGUE
AND LOCARNO

By FREDERICK KUH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, March 23.—The Reichstag today expressed confidence by a rising vote in the government's policy with respect to the League of Nations.

The Reichstag also defeated by a rising vote a motion to repudiate the Dawes plan.

Foreign Minister Stresemann had been careful in asking for confidence, not to seek approval of domestic as well as foreign policies. The vote today was merely an expression of confidence in Stresemann's actions at Geneva and the government's participation in the Locarno agreements.

The vote came after Admiral Von Tirpitz, who had directed the U Boat campaign, which brought the United States into the war, had broken a two year silence in the Reichstag to lead the national assault against the League and Locarno. He had demanded that Germany's application for membership be withdrawn after the introduction of a nationalist motion of misconfidence.

Von Tirpitz approved the alleged statement of Alanson B. Houghton, the United States ambassador to Great Britain, as reported from Washington and told the Reichstag that Germany should follow the United States' policy in abstaining from League membership.

The communists also had introduced a misconfidence motion and this was defeated following the rising vote. Then the nationalist motion of misconfidence came before the Reichstag and was defeated, 259 to 141 votes.

"I appeal to Germans to submerge their inner political differences and establish a united front toward Geneva and Locarno," pleaded Von Tirpitz.

Startling silence followed his words for a moment, only to be followed by angry cries from the left benches.

"Liar!" shouted the left deputies. Yesterday Foreign Minister Stresemann had addressed to the Reichstag a warning that Germany must not underestimate the force of world opinion in this crisis as she had done during the war.

Stresemann was undoubtedly referring to the war time decision urged by Tirpitz to embark upon unrestricted U Boat warfare. Perhaps that was what stirred the 76 year old sailor to emerge from the silence which had enveloped him since he entered the Reichstag as a nationalist deputy in 1924.

The debate preceding the vote of confidence developed into an oratorical duel between Von Tirpitz and Luther. Excitement swept the hall as Von Tirpitz finished and Luther rose to reply with a defense of the government and an argument for Germany's adhesion to the League.

"It would be impossible for Germany to withdraw her application for membership in the League," Luther said. "Such a move would announce to the world that we do not desire to reap the harvest of Locarno."

A roar of protest arose from the extreme right, where Von Tirpitz sat among the nationalists.

Luther, angry, turned and shouted:

"Then show me another way." Luther became more excited as he approached the end of his speech.

"Locarno must be considered as an accomplished fact and no longer open to discussion," he told the deputies. "World opinion, especially in the United States, is swinging to Germany and the United States recognized that Germany's policy at Geneva was justified."

LACKED 7 FEET OF TYING WORLD ALTITUDE RECORD

Washington, March 23.—(UP)—When Lieutenant John A. MacReady pushed his airplane into the rarefied air heights above McCook Field, Dayton, O., on March 13, he failed to break the world's altitude record, the army aviation service announced today following completion of calibrations of his instruments.

The calibration made by the bureau of standards showed he reached 37,579 feet.

Previously to MacReady's spectacular test, M. Callizo of France had made the world's altitude flight by ascending to a distance of 39,386 feet.

PRAYERS OF BILL TAYLOR ARE HEARD

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT CLOSES
20 ROADHOUSES ALONG
STATE LINE

NEAR THE ILLINOIS-INDIANA
BOUNDARY
LINE

Thornton, Ill., March 23.—(UP)—The federal government heard the prayers of Brother Bill Taylor, the rabid anti-liquor evangelist, and today some 20 roadhouses along the Illinois-Indiana line near here are closed.

Several weeks ago Brother Bill, who confessed to having been a former bartender and a former liquor consumer, started a series of prayers for some power to close the roadhouses, which were said to infest the district. Nightly exhortations against the liquor dens were offered and the non-roadhouses attended.

Sunday Brother Bill closed the meetings.

R. Q. Merrick, chief prohibition agent here, got word of the prayers and decided someone should answer and so he undertook the task himself. A raid late Monday netted 40 prisoners, many gallons of liquor and a general closing of the prayed-against roadhouses.

since the war today, in an effort to torpedo the Locarno treaties.

The nationalists suddenly introduced a misconfidence motion against the government in an attempt to rescind Germany's application for League of Nations membership and to nullify her signature on the Locarno treaties.

GOVERNMENTS TO DEFEND THEMSELVES

By CLIFFORD DAVY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, March 23.—The governments of Great Britain and Germany today will defend themselves before their respective parliaments with regard to last week's unsatisfactory adjournment of the League of Nations meeting at Geneva without having admitted Germany to membership.

France, in the throes of a financial crisis, will be the most interested spectator of the proceedings.

Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany began his defense yesterday and expects to obtain a large vote of confidence this afternoon. Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British foreign secretary, will speak the first word in the house of commons today since he as hero of Locarno and newly created Knight of the Garter, left London during the first week of March to add to his peace-making reputation at Geneva.

David Lloyd George and former labor Premier MacDonald will attack Sir Austen in the commons today.

Lloyd George immediately laid the blame for failure at Geneva upon Sir Austen, asserting that he could have prevented the situation that developed there had he acted in time.

"One point wrecked Geneva," said the Welchman, "and it was never mentioned in the parliamentary explanations of Locarno."

"Did Chamberlain know of the intention of France to secure simultaneous entry of Poland with Germany at Geneva?"

"The United States has been alienated from the League as much by the recent meeting at Geneva as by anything that has happened in a long time."

Flowers Are Used for Decorative Purposes

The demand for flowers for decorative purposes on dresses, coats, suits and evening wraps is greater than ever before. To meet it almost every type and variety of flower is being reproduced in different mediums to suit the occasion. Chiffon, georgette, thin silk and velvet are used in the selection for evening wear. These flowers include all the large petaled blooms. Their outstanding feature is their extreme softness and lightness both in texture and color. For informal wear there are gardenias in pink, boys rose and white, bachelor buttons, lacquered violets, tiger lilies in natural colors, and sweet peas. A natural touch is given the more sturdy flowers by the innovation of applied rhinestones to give the effect of dewdrops. Also colored insects are added as if they had just alighted on the flower.

BURNING PERMITS NEEDED FOR FIRES

Lake Resorters And Others Must Have Written Permission For
Burning Off Grass

State Forester Rhodes Asks Cooperation of People For Preserving Forests

The state forester's office here has issued a statement regarding the burning of grass and leaves, showing that a burning permit is necessary before starting a fire, unless a sufficient fire check is provided.

Earl H. Rhodes, forester, has had numerous inquiries from local people who have summer cottages at the various lakes, as to whether it is necessary for them to get a burning permit before starting to burn.

The state law on this subject reads, in brief, "It shall be unlawful when the ground is not snow-covered to start or have any open fire, except for domestic purposes, or any back fire, without the written permission of the forester or other authorized forest officer, unless a fire-break sufficient to check the spread of such fire shall have been freshly made or plowed around the place or area wherein said fire is set." Another part of the law reads that "furrow plowed in peat lands shall not be deemed a sufficient fire break."

"Although it is possible to burn without a permit where a sufficient fire break has been made," said Mr. Rhodes, "still, burning permits may be obtained of the local ranger or township fire warden free of cost, and regardless of whether you think you are burning safe, or not, we feel that when a person takes the trouble to get a permit for burning that he is trying to co-operate with the forest officers in preventing fires and making the shores of Minnesota lakes a safer place to build a summer home. Your co-operation and example may be the means of preserving some of our wooded shores."

BRAINERD GIRL IN CONCERT TOUR

Miss Georgia Drexler Member of Famous St. Olaf Lutheran
Choir of Northfield

TOUR MARCH 26 TO APRIL 25

Itinerary Includes Many Cities of North Central States, Concert Each Day

Miss Georgia Drexler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drexler, of this city, and a senior student at St. Olaf college in Northfield, is a member of the St. Olaf choir, which is making a tour of north central states for concert work during the next month.

The itinerary of the choir will include stops for concerts at many cities, including Superior and Duluth, Hibbing, Ironwood, Mich., Milwaukee, Ann Arbor, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Chicago, South Bend, and others.

Miss Drexler has been a member of the choir since her first year at the college. The choir is one of the most famous in the country, membership in it being ranked higher by students at St. Olaf than membership on an athletic team. In many of the cities on the tour the seats for the concert have been sold out for several weeks.

One of the purposes of making the trip is to secure money for the building of a music hall at the college. The choir has set itself to this goal, to build its own hall.

The first concert of this spring's trip will be given at Superior on March 26, Saturday, in the Superior normal gymnasium. On Sunday, March 28, a concert will be given at the Duluth Central high school at 2:30 p. m., and in the evening of that day at the Hibbing high school. The final appearance of the choir on this trip will be at LaCrosse, Wis., on April 25.

Dickson-Faupel

Miss Mildred Faupel became the bride of William Dickson, of Pequot, at a very pretty wedding at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Con Faupel, of Midway Farm, Center township, on Thursday afternoon, March 18, at 4 o'clock. Rev. W. C. Haire officiated at the pleasing ceremony.

Miss Madge Borden was the bridesmaid, while Carl Faupel, brother of the bride, acted as best man. Following the ceremony, a delicious luncheon was served to the bridal party and guests.

Those present at the service were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Haire, Mr. and Mrs. Con Faupel, Peter and Carl Faupel, Mrs. Laurinda Dickson, of Pequot, Miss Madge Borden, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Alexander and children, Cynthia, Elizabeth and Albert, and A. P. Kimball, of Brainerd.

The bride was dressed in a dress of green and black embroidered crepe de chene. The bridesmaid's was of navy blue silk crepe. The bride received many beautiful presents from her friends.

On Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Faupel gave a reception and wedding dance to the friends and neighbors, and in spite of the inclement weather, a large number attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickson will make their home in Center township with Mr. and Mrs. Con Faupel.

LARGE FUNERAL FOR BERT O'BRIEN

Brainerd Merchant is Laid to Rest

Cemetery

BROTHERS ARE PALL BEARERS

One of Largest Funerals in History of Brainerd, St. Francis
Church is Packed

Bert O'Brien was laid to rest this morning in the family plot at Evergreen cemetery, at one of the largest funerals in the history of the city. The St. Francis church was crowded with friends of the deceased merchant, who came to do homage to his name.

The pall bearers were five brothers of the deceased, James, Giles, Neil, George and Earl, and one cousin, Harry O'Brien. The procession started from the Con O'Brien home on South Broadway, and led to the St. Francis Catholic church, where Rev. Fr. James Hagan officiated at requiem high mass.

From the church the cars carrying the mourners and friends, fifty or sixty cars in number, went to Evergreen cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Michael Enright officiated at a short service at the grave.

Brevity and Wit

The son of an English clergyman named Jordan who had been taught the art of brevity, started his father with the following wire from the university, where he was receiving his education: "S.O.S., f.s.d., R.S.V.P." The lad further distinguishes himself in reply to an anxious letter as to his final examination. "Hymn 345, verse 5, last two lines," which the anxious parent found to convey, "Sorrow vanquished, labor ended, Jordan passed."

English as Translated
In the American commerce reports some amusing examples of mistranslations are given. Thus in a Spanish-speaking country "vacuum cleaners" was rendered "cleaners of emptiness," "iron washers" became "machines for washing iron" and "harness for a single-horse buggy" came out as "harness full of bugs for a bachelor horse."—American Mutual Magazine.

Caves of Elephanta

Not far from Bombay, India, are the famous caves of Elephanta. Elephanta is an island long held as a sacred place by Orientals. The name was given by the Portuguese from a colossal sculpture of an elephant. A series of subterranean temples are hewn right out of the solid rock. Columns of the natural rock are left standing to support the roof, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Night Coughing Relieved At Once

Why suffer continually from a persistent, weakening night cough when you can get almost instant relief, and usually break the cough completely in 24 hours by a new method based on the famous Dr. King's New Discovery?

Here is the method: You simply take one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. It has a double action. It not only soothes and heals irritation, but also removes the phlegm and congestion which are the real cause of the coughing. As a result even the worst cough usually disappears quickly.

Dr. King's New Discovery is for coughs, chest colds, bronchitis, spasmodic croup, etc. Fine for children, too—no harmful drugs. Very economical, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. At all good druggists. Ask for

OUR FARMERS' COOPERATIVE CREAMERY

It is with genuine satisfaction that one turns to the report of the Farmers' Cooperative Creamery association for the month of February. Pounds of butter made amounted to 29,326. There was an increase of over 6,000 pounds of butter in February, 1926, over the same month in 1925.

Eighty per cent of the butter shipped was Land O' Lakes butter and the balance scored 92. In January, 1926, eighty-three per cent of the butter shipped was Land O' Lakes and the balance was 92 score. During January and February, 1925, no Land O' Lakes butter was made as the quality of the cream was not of Land O' Lakes quality.

Here are some more February figures:

Pounds of cream received, 82,819.

The cream payroll for the month was $11,287.90.

Price per pound for sweet butterfat, 48c.

Price per pound for sour butterfat, 43c.

Many of the patrons are getting supplied with cream coolers and with new cans for the summer, which they get through the creamery.

Brainerd people regard this creamery as one of the reliable business institutions of the city and much of the butter the town eats is from this creamery.

YOUNGER GENERATION NO WORSE THAN LAST

THE younger generation is no worse than the last, is the conclusion of a Toledo probate judge. "There is no reason for alarm. They're the same boys and girls," said Probate Judge O. B. O'Donnell.

He believes that the modern boy and girl move a bit faster. The judge waxed reminiscent and referred to a dance craze in the early days, 25 years ago, known as the "Sally Waters." People were as greatly criticized dancing this "Sally Waters" as they are of the Charleston today.

There were petting parties in the old days. Mother and dad of the present generation had no automobile, but they went buggy riding under a new moon. They held hands as the horse jogged along and perhaps they exchanged a kiss or two.

"Today the girl is condemned for her short skirts, her rouged cheeks, and bobbed hair. Twenty-five years ago her mother was reprimanded for lifting her skirts high enough to show her ankle, for using too much powder, and for wearing wire rats in her hair."

It's the same old world with a little different viewpoint, but humanity hasn't changed a bit.

WOMEN AS BANKERS

WOMEN have taken up a new vocation, banking. Their intuition stands them in good stead. Financial problems are not just mere "yes" and "no" questions, says Miss Gertrude M. Jacobs, who is assistant cashier of a large Milwaukee bank. They are always intimate problems and cannot be remedied other than with personal discussion, she believes. This she says requires a good deal of intuition and psychology and this is one of the primary contributions of women to the banking field.

The average married woman uses her intuition remarkably well in dealing with the financial problems of the home and can tell almost to absolute certainty the amount of money that Pa has in his pockets.

Many women reveal their gift as a financier, when almost unaided they rear large families.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

THE Minnesota Historical society will hold its fifth annual meeting at Mankato June 18 and 19. Previous state historical conventions have been held at Duluth, Redwood Falls, Detroit and Winona. The annual historic tour preceding the meeting will probably start June 16 with stops at Northfield and Faribault.

Brainerd should try and get this convention. We have history in this section of the kind which helped to build this commonwealth. There is a wealth of Indian lore, of pioneer hunter and trapper, of the settlers that followed. An inspection by this state historical society will settle many disputed points and will indelibly record the early impressions.

NON-RESIDENT FISHING LICENSES

ONE hundred thousand non-resident fishing licenses have been sent out by Charles W. Henke, assistant state game and fish commissioner, to game wardens throughout the state who will distribute them among county auditors, sporting goods houses and resort owners. Last year 52,000 licenses were sold at $2 each. A fee of $3 will be collected this year from non-resident fishermen.

More than a million tourists visited Minnesota last year, but only a comparatively small proportion were issued licenses. Mr. Henke believes the legislature will authorize resident licenses at the next session. All the money collected from licenses goes back into an improvement fund.

SMOCKS

GIRLS of the city have started the custom of wearing smocks at business places. Two of the girls at the Citizens State bank have cunning smocks that were made right here in Brainerd. Another girl, cashier at a meat market, finds a smock is just the thing to preserve her good clothes and do her office work freely.

The smock originated in the garrets of the artists' quarters where it was used as a cover-all for working purposes. During the World War factories used the loose garments for their female workers. Today many women find the smock a convenient house-dress.

In the larger cities, wherever we find women working, we find smocks.

WALKER is talking about a Fourth of July celebration. "It is a worthy subject for discussion and none too soon to be given consideration," says the Walker Pilot.

FIFTY-TWO degrees temperature yesterday afternoon will, if long continued, soon cause our lakes to shed their icy overcoats.

GERMANY BACKS UP GOVERNMENT STAND ON LEAGUE

Lloyd George quoted Senator William E. Borah, whereupon there was considerable laughter among the conservatives.

"What is the good of scoffing at him?" he demanded. "Senator Borah is one of the most able and influential men in the United States and is chairman of the foreign relations committee."

Asserting "there is only one rampart between us and war, the League of Nations," Lloyd George urged that the British government concentrate every effort upon saving the League. Britain alone could save the League, he said, because she was free from entanglements.

The former premier emphasized that if all the nations at Geneva had been told from the first that the session would be confined to the entry of Germany, the various nationalistic claims would never have arisen.

Lloyd George pointed out two main criticisms of the recent League fiasco:

First, that the signatories of Locarno were responsible for the failure, and, second, that the failure had damaged the machinery of peace to such an extent that many of Chamberlain's best friends despaired of the effect it would have.

Chamberlain denied having made any pledges regarding Poland or Brazil during his meeting with Briand, but said he "had already renewed the assurances that under suitable circumstances Britain would renew her support of Spain's candidacy given four years ago during the Lloyd George government."

He charged Lloyd George with having created some of the American suspicion of the League of Nations through his syndicated fortnightly newspaper articles printed in the United States.

"I did my best," he said, "to persuade other nations not to arouse further claims but to concentrate on getting Germany into the League."

Chamberlain absolved Germany and all others of blame for the inglorious end at Geneva and said that the whole situation arose from a misunderstanding.

He revealed that his instructions from the cabinet when he went to Geneva were:

"That neither Poland nor Brazil was to be admitted to the permanent council seats for the present, but that Poland should have a non-permanent council seat as soon as possible."

London, March 23.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, today in the house of commons replied to the opposition charges that he could have prevented the recent League of Nations stalemate at Geneva, with a bitter denial of responsibility for Germany's failure to enter the League.

He attributed the entire matter to a misunderstanding for which none of the participants could be held guilty and he revealed that the cabinet had instructed him to oppose all claims except Germany's for permanent council seats when he left for Geneva during the first week of March.

Resistance of Phones

Many people have the mistaken notion that the resistance of headphones is a measure of their quality. Actually, radio headphones of 2,500 ohms resistance may be much better than others of 5,000 ohms resistance. The resistance is determined by the length, size and kind of wire used in their construction. Their performance is a matter of proper engineering design and the use of good materials.

Famous "Greek Fire"

The fire invented and used by Callimachus in 688 A. D. to destroy the ships of the invading Saracens was composed of naphtha or liquid bitumen, mixed with sulphur and pitch procured from green fir trees. Water, instead of extinguishing, quickened this agent, which the Greeks controlled with sand, wine and vinegar. The secret was maintained by the Greeks for 400 years.

SENIORS CHALLENGE REST OF SCHOOL IN LAST BASKETBALL GAME OF THE SEASON

Junior Girls Also Challenge the High School in Preliminary Game

The basketball season is supposed to be over, but up it springs again—the Seniors, who had in their midst the greater part of the first team, who were not allowed to play in the Inter-class Tournament, have announced to all comers that they will meet the combined forces of the high school on the gym floor to prove to the world their prowess. Smashing under the defeat of their second string at the hands of the Sophomores and Juniors they are ready to put up a fight to the finish, and the game should be a mighty interesting one. The Senior line-up includes Marshall, Whitlock, Lawrenz, Tribur, Avery and Eckholm, who will meet a team made up of Orth, DeRoche, Putz, Aro, Wise, Lowe and Fitzharris.

In addition the Junior girls have issued a similar challenge to the fair damsels of the school to prove their ability as basket shooters. The Juniors, consisting of Helen Beggs, Edna Turner, Iona Hollingsworth, Graze Alcant, Alta Storm, Alice Johnson and Fern Lewis will meet a team that will probably include Miriam Michael, Katherine Nolan, Iva Trask, Gladys Reuter, Irene Molstead, Margaret Jackson, Kathleen Early.

These two games will be staged in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 on Wednesday. Admission, 10 and 15 cents, well worth while. These battles should be as hotly contested as any at the Crosby-Ton Tournament if one can judge from the size of the crowds and the enthusiasm already shown in the Inter-class games. Come one, come all!

NEW BOOKS FOR SCHOOL LIBRARY

Last week the High School received the following books to add to the library. The students should try their best to make as good use of these as they can before the end of the year. They will also be helpful in choosing a vocation as there are many books in that line.

Senior Meetings

Another great problem is weighing upon the minds of the Seniors. It isn't about the rings, for that bloody war has long been settled, but it's a question of what to wear for commencement, that is stirring the senior room into a loud turmoil of cries and exclamations. The girls met twice last week on Monday and Tuesday at three-thirty, but the vote ended in a tie both times after an hour and a half of hot arguing. Many suggestions were made by the various members of the class; these often caused an uproar from everybody. Caps and gowns were eliminated from the list from the beginning of the meeting. The trouble in the disagreement lies a great deal in the fact that everybody will not look well in a certain dress. A complaint would be heard from some member suffering from a high mark in avordupois, but that would be over-ruled. The issue is still in doubt.

At Last

After months of expectant waiting, after many sad disappointments, and after hope of ever receiving them had almost expired, the Semper Paratus club pins arrived. But the obstacles encountered before their final appearance were certainly many. The company couldn't seem to correctly fill the order, and letter had to be sent explaining and describing and upbraiding. The pins which came last Wednesday, however, met with the enthusiastic approval of all concerned. They are a distinctive emblem and one of which every member is proud. They are shield-shaped, medium sized, black with a narrow gold edging, and with the letters "S. P. C." in gold.

EXCHANGE

We are pleased to have received the LaCrosse Tribune from LaCrosse, Wis., and hope to receive your paper again.

The Al-Hi-Nuz, Alexandria, Minn.—We like the way your paper is arranged and especially your front page make-up. The picture of your B. B. team was especially interesting.

The Prairie Breeze, Glyndon, Minn.—You have an exceedingly newsworthy paper, but it could be improved by a literary column and a larger humor column.

The H. S. Tattler, Windom, Minn.—Ancient Tales Rebound and Retained is our idea of an A-No. 1 humor column.

Anoka-Hi, Anoka, Minn.—The play, "Stop Thief" is to be given by the Senior class and an operetta entitled "The Belle of Barcelona" is to be presented by the Glee club of Anoka. We wish you success in both.

Bacchus at the Pump
I thirst, I thirst.
My palate shrivels up.
My tongue is parched.
I crave a drinking cup.

A drinking fount,
Bubbles in the school.
If I would not drink,
I'd be a noble fool.

I pause at first,
And doubly brace myself.
And then I cautiously
Bend over, like an elf.

To get a sip
Of that transparent juice,
And with my lips,
To sign a waited truce.

I turn the knob,
A stream from it flies high.
Comes up with force,
And strikes my humble eye.

In sooth, I came,
(I can't control my wrath).
To get a drink,
But not a shower bath.

Alta isn't calm instead of Storm?
Lena isn't shine instead of Schone?
Helen isn't meadow instead of Lee?

Miss O'Brien's New Sweater

What is that bright and shining thing,
Worn by her who rang the bell ting-a-ling.
Who cranes her neck to see the sights,
Then a memorandum in her notebook writes.
Who takes the name of those that come late.
And makes them stay as sure a fate
Who teaches of triangles and circles too
And who, in Geometry, teaches you
And who wears that sweater as bright as the sun.
Ah! You've guessed it: 'tis Miss O'Brien; so my poem's done.

A Senior stood on the railroad track,
A train was coming fast,
The train got off the railroad track
And let the Senior pass.

Some of our ambitious Seniors are heard every once in a while discussing what they will do when they graduate. Here are some jobs we would like to advise them to get:

Calling out the stations on an ocean liner.

Deck swabber on a submarine.

Chief linesman for the wireless telephone company.

Stoker on an oil-burner.

Assisting the florist pick the blossoms off the century plant.

Selling electric fans to Esquimo-land and ear-tabs to the South Sea Isles.

Miss Mosier (in English I): "Don't you think that is an indirect object? It tells to whom something is given, doesn't it?"

Leonard B.: "Yes, but I don't believe it."

Inter-class Games

The practicing for the girls' inter-class games has begun. With Helen Beggs, Alta Storm, Edna Turner and Gladys Reuter as coaches, there certainly will be a lot of competition for the pennant, which the Sophomores so easily ran away with last.

Probably the Seniors will win. The Juniors? The Sophomores? The Freshmen? Who knows? Fate will decide funny things sometimes. So with all the pep, energy and muscle you have, Sophomores, come on, let's go, everybody!

Report cards now.
Report cards forever.
Red marks now.
But not forever.

Dear Ham and Lim: I am in the soap business and a man named Smith is my rival. He painted on trees, rocks and everything: "Buy Smith's Soap." If I don't do something I will go out of business. What shall I do? Yours truly, Abner Jones.

Answer—Paint under all of his signs—"If you can't get Jones."

Dear Ham and Lim: For Latin tomorrow, Miss Oldenburg wants me to translate "Caesar's bonus lex." I don't know what any of those words mean. Can you help me? Yours truly, Uno Howe.

Answer—It means "Caesar's bony legs."

Dear Ham and Lim: I made a lot of noise in English and Miss Mosier made me sit on her left side so she can watch me. She has a grudge against me. What shall I do? Yours truly, I. M. Badd.

Answer—Get on the right side of her.

Dear Ham and Lim: Some people say that the modern youth has made no contribution to science. Is this true? Yours truly, I. M. Wun.

Answer—No; what about some of these: The Snake's Hips, The Chigger's Ankle; The Eel's Elbow, The Mosquito's Eyebrow, The Cat's Meow, The Whale's False Teeth, The Gnat's Ribs, The Elephant's Finger-bowl.

I've toiled all day with my lessons,
And again I must toil tonight;
My teachers give such long assignments

I don't think it's just quite right.
In French I have just five pages,
In Botany only ten.
But I s'pose if I study I'll get them.

For if we get A's we must study,
And not bluff now and then;
For each time you don't know your lesson
You get zero instead of a ten.

Her dad, he wore a number ten—

ATHLETICS

Inter-Class Contests

Second only to the district tournament was the Inter-class contest last week at the high school. The various class teams were coached by first team men Lowe and Fitzharris led the Freshmen, Lawrenz coached the Sophomores, Whitlock instructed the Juniors, and Tribur coached the Seniors. The games were all hotly contested, with varying scores.

In the first game the Freshmen led by Capt. Swanson defeated the Sophomores by a decisive score. The Juniors defeated the Seniors on the same night by a score of 8 to 6 in a very exciting game which was full of fast playing and excellent teamwork.

On the following night the Freshmen played the Juniors for the championship of the school, the Juniors defeating their smaller opponents after a hard fought game.

A consolation game was also played between the Seniors and Sophomores losers in the first games, the Sophs winning by a narrow margin of 23-0.

Juniors vs Seniors—8-6.

Freshmen vs Sophomores—17-15.

Seniors vs Sophomores—0-23.

The Freshmen gave the Juniors a decided battle for the inter-class pennant, running the score so close that more than once the Juniors saw victory slipping from their grasp to the younger class.

Following is the line-up for each team:
Freshmen—Ar. Wise, Swanson (C) Ralph Anderson, John Gabiou, Sophomores—Boyd, Lewis, Barne, Hautala (C) La Course, Brending, Brown, Branting.

Seniors—Eckholm, Vjken, Mayo, Gile, Carl Erickson, Fredstrom, Backen, Van Walk.

GIRLS' INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL TOURNEY

The schedule for the girls' tournament is as follows:

Monday
1st game—Soph. vs Juniors. Ref. Gladys Reuter.
2nd game—Senior vs Freshmen. Ref. Alta Storm.

Tuesday
1st game—Soph. vs Fresh. Ref. Edna Turner.
2nd game—Seniors vs Juniors. Ref. Helen Beggs.

Wednesday
1st game—Fresh. vs Juniors. Ref. Iva Trask.
2nd game—Soph. vs Senior. Ref. Katherine Nolan.

The four teams are all in good condition and are out to win. They have been practicing under the leadership of Gladys Reuter, Edna Turner, Alta Storm and Helen Beggs, coaching respectively the Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen.

The tournament is bound to be interesting. Let's all be there. An account of the games will be in next week's Brainonian.

Coach Beresford

Coach Beresford
Of the Brainerd team
Is six feet four,
And he's a scream.

He has blue eyes
And slick, black hair,
Muscular arms
And shoulders square.

He has sinewy hands
With a powerful grip,
And substantial feet
That seldom slip.

We've had other coaches,
Indeed, that were fair,
But Clinton Beresford
Is beyond compare.

And with our boys
In Beresford's grip
We've won the District Championship.

The Violet

The violet was a modest flower,
Which always hung its head,
And in its low and shady bower,
A quiet life she led.

Though modest she was very fair,
And she had a golden heart;
She was content to just hide there,
To do her little part.

Vesper Bells

Hark! I hear the vesper bells,
Far off on the distant shore;
It seems as if to me they tell
Farewell, farewell, forever more.

Who? What? Where?

The Seniors were given questionnaires to vote for the class beauty, the most popular boy and girl and many other questions of importance to the class.

Senior girls are still undecided what to wear for graduation. The decision has narrowed to white flannel dresses and white flannel skirts with navy blue or black tuxedos.

The Brainonian banquet has been postponed until after Easter.

The Semper Paratus banquet is to be given the Thursday after vacation.

The 2nd period Social Problems class as a result of an argument had in class as to whether the girls of today are as well prepared to have a home and keep it as the girls of yesterday, are to have dinner up at high the Saturday after vacation. The girls are to cook it, bread and all, and the boys are to furnish "de mon."

Mrs. Stone is substituting for Miss O'Brien.

On Friday the Biology classes were shown colored slides of some of the birds of Minnesota. The slides were furnished by Dr. Roberts of U. of M. Some of them were pictures taken in Itasca Park by Mr. Roberts himself.

Miss Cedarstrand went around on a crutch last week due to a sprained tendon.

The members of the school and especially of the Junior class, extend their sympathy to Miss O'Brien and to Marguerite O'Brien in the death of Mr. Bertram O'Brien. The Junior class sent flowers to express their sorrow for their class president in the loss of her father.

Orations in English III

Perhaps it is hard to imagine such phrases as "But as for me, give me liberty or give me death," flowing sonorously from the mouths of members of the Junior class, but nevertheless that is what's happening. The Eng. III classes are, at present, between the memorizing of 100 lines of poetry and learning all about the music of poetry, learning 500 words of some great oration while in their "spare time" they study three or four other subjects. Of course, as older people say, it is good for the young minds to have something to do to keep them out of mischief and so forth, but, as this is the time of year when spring fever is very prevalent to say the least it is very likely to keep the average student busy at least half of his study time.

HUMOR

Fresh (looking at his watch): "Well, I must be off."
Soph: "Yeah, that's what I tho't from the start!"

R. B.: "What would you do if you were in my shoes?"
Eugene G. "I'd get 'em stretched."

Teacher: "What is strategy of a war, and give examples."
Pupil: "Strategy of a war is when the enemy runs out of ammunition and keeps on firing."

Teacher: "What is the difference between hard water and soft water?"
Pupil: "Hard water is when it is ice and soft water is when it is in liquid form."

Doris M. (after telling about a gas engine): "How much do I get on that?"
Miss Graham: "About '70 or '75 I think, as I had to help you all the time."

Doris M.: "That isn't fair; I deserve 80 because I was talking right along and never stopped."

Carl Maxe: "Can I borrow some paper?"
John: "I guess so; you've practiced long enough."

Jim: "What do you do for excitement?"
Tom: "Count the bob-haired girls in high school."

Child: "Look, mamma, the circus is in town."
Mother: "Hush, child, it is only one of those high school boys."

Small girl (addressing an upper and lower classman): "What are you?"
L. C. "Soph'more."
Small girl: "Then I suppose you are a hard more."

Mr. S.: "How did the quiz turn out?"
Mr. G.: "Fine, they didn't read the footnotes."

WOMEN TENNIS SQUAD TO INVADE EUROPE

MISS WILLS TO HEAD THE TEAM OF FOUR

MEN'S TEAM TO INCLUDE BILL
TILDEN, JOHNSTON,
RICHARDS

FRANK HUNTER TAKEN BECAUSE OF ABILITY AS DOUBLES
PLAYER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, March 23.—With plans practically complete for the European invasion by the American women's tennis team, officials of the United States Lawn Tennis Association are now turning their attention to the organization of the men's team.

Before any names are announced the association wants to know if the invitations can be accepted and it is understood that several players who have been approached have not been able to give a definite answer.

In selecting Helen Wills, national champion; Elizabeth Ryan, Mary K. Browne and Mrs. Helen Z. Jessup, officials of the association felt that they had recruited the strongest team available and they want to have a man's team just as formidable.

Bill Tilden, Billy Johnston and Vinnie Richards would naturally form the strongest combination available and Frank Hunter, because of his ability as a doubles player and his international experience, would make a valuable fourth member.

Richards and Hunter, it is understood, have tentatively accepted the invitation to join the team, but Tilden and Johnston have indicated that business may force them to remain in this country this summer.

British tennis officials are particularly eager to have Tilden and Johnston in the Wimbledon tournament as it promises to be one of the greatest ever staged.

French officials, who have arranged a special international match, also want America's first and second ranking players as headline attractions and they will be needed badly if the American team is to make a good showing against Jean Borotra and Rene LaCoste.

"Brick" Muller a Star Performer on Gridiron

One of the greatest of the greats, athletically speaking, ever turned out along the Pacific slope was "Brick" Muller of California.

Muller was an all-round athlete, par excellence. A star football performer, the big fellow could also hold his own with the best in track and on the diamond.

Muller, as you probably know, gained his most fame as a griddle playing end. He was good on both offense and defense. But his forte was throwing passes.

Endowed with an extremely large pair of hands, which permitted him to obtain an unusual grip on the ball, he could hurl with speed and accuracy.

In a word, Muller was one of the greatest passers football has produced.

In the famous Intersectional game with Ohio State, New Year's day, 1921, Muller's passing was one of his outstanding features. His aerial work played a prominent part in sending the middle westerners back home with a stinging 28-to-0 defeat as a reminder of their jaunt to the coast.

Ohio, it will be recalled, won the Big Ten championship the preceding fall with one of the best teams that institution ever put on the field.

It was in that brush that Muller tossed one pass that traveled from deep California territory into the waiting arms of a Californian, perched almost on the goal line. Out in the West they still talk about that heave whenever football is the topic.

SWIMS 15 MILES IN DRIVING TROPICAL RAIN STORM AT TAMPA

Tampa, Fla., March 23.—(UP)—In the face of a driving tropical rain, Helen Wainwright, former Olympic swimming champion, struck out on an attempted 15 miles swim around Davis Islands today.

At noon she was making rapid progress and showed little sign of fatigue after covering 1 1/2 miles.

The young aquatic star estimated that it would take her nine hours to complete the test she was making in preparation for her attempt to swim the English channel next summer.

Youthful Britisher Is New Fighting Sensation

Teddy Baldock, a stripling of seventeen, has taken the boxing world by storm.

Since he left school three years ago he has been in 124 battles and never has met with defeat. Often he fought twice daily in the East end, where he is regarded as a hero.

The experts are hopeful that he will prove to be a second Jimmy Wilde and retrieve some of Great Britain's lost pugilistic fame. The lad comes of fighting stock.

His grandfather fought in the bare-knuckle days of the squared circle, and his father also was a fighter. Baldock's latest victory was the other night when he defeated a Frenchman, Antoine Merlo, in a brilliant exhibition.

LAST GAMES AT HIGH SCHOOL FOR ANNUAL BENEFIT

SENIOR BOYS AND JUNIOR GIRLS
CHALLENGE REST OF SCHOOL

ENTIRE FIRST TEAM ON SENIOR
TEAM, LAST APPEAR-ANCE

Tomorrow night the Senior boys of the high school will line up against the best that the rest of the school has to offer, in a challenge game. Just previous to this game, the Junior girls will line up similarly against the best that the other class girls can muster, in their own challenge game.

These games will be for Brainonian benefit. The admission charge is small, but the backers of the games are hoping for a large crowd, in order to bring a goodly portion of shekels into the coffers of the Senior annual. The more money received, the better the year-book.

The boys' game is interesting for at least one thing. The entire Senior team will be men of the first team, champions of the district. Marshall and Avery at forwards, Whitlock at center, and Tribur and Lawrenz at guard, will represent the Seniors. This is peculiar from the fact that an entire team of first string men will play their final game as a unit, and will go out of school as a group.

Opposed to them will be a team chosen from the following men, all men of first or second team experience: Aro, Wise and Fitzharris, forwards, Orth, center, and Lowe, Putz and DeRocher, guards.

The preliminary game will be between the Junior girls, challengers, and the rest of the school. This game will be at 7:30 o'clock, with the boys' game following immediately.

COURT MARTIAL IS ORDERED FOR COL. WILLIAMS

TO BE TRIED ON CHARGE OF AL-LEGED DRUNKEN-
NESS

FOLLOWS ACTION TAKEN BY
BRIG-GEN. SMEDLEY
BUTLER

Washington, March 23.—(UP)—Secretary of the Navy Wilbur today ordered a court martial held to try Colonel Alexander Williams for alleged drunkenness as a result of Brigadier General Smedley Butler's charges made following the Williams' "cocktail" party, where Butler was a guest at San Diego.

The marine corps colonel, who was predecessor to Butler, as commander of the San Diego post, will be tried by a general court, it was announced. Personnel and data of the court will probably be announced at San Diego, where the trial will be held.

Secretary Wilbur signed the specifications against Williams, on recommendation of the judge advocate of the navy, Rear Admiral E. E. Campbell. Major General John A. LeJeune, marine corps chief, had referred Butler's charges to Campbell.

Dishonorable discharge from the service is the extreme penalty that could be imposed upon conviction but the usual punishment is some specified "loss of numbers" on the promotion list, which would result in keeping Williams a colonel while some who enter the service later would be promoted over his head.

The charges specify that Colonel Williams was drunk in the Coronado Hotel in San Diego, it is understood, although the papers were not made public here.

The incident leading to the charges was a dinner party in Williams' house at which Butler, who achieved much fame as a liquor law crusader at the head of the Philadelphia police force in the last two years, saw some drinking. After it was over, Butler came upon his host in the hotel and it was a result of Williams' alleged disorderly conduct in public that caused Butler to bring the charges.

MILD WEATHER BRINGS OUT S. D. VOTERS

FIRST SPRING PRIMARY ELEC-TION IS BEING HELD
TODAY

ROADS ARE IN BAD CONDITION.
HEAVY VOTE EXPECTED IN SPITE OF SAME

Pierre, S. D., March 23.—(UP)—Mild weather brought voters to the polls early in South Dakota today for the country's first spring primary election. Although roads are still in bad condition in some sections, a heavy vote is anticipated.

Republicans will choose between Senator Peter Norbeck and George J. Danforth for the senate in the principal contest. Norbeck wound up his campaign last night at Redfield in his home county. Danforth rested after carrying his case to the Black Hills in a series of addresses. Governor Gunderson was back at the capitol yesterday after a last minute campaign in eastern and central cities of the state. His opponent, C. E. Coyne, took the last stump of his tour at Sisseton.

W. O. Richards, democratic minority candidate for governor, made the only campaign for his party ticket. He finished his appeal to voters of the East River country. W. J. Bulow, his opponent, put up no fight after his endorsement by the state convention.

The democratic contest has been submerged in the heated republican fight. The senatorial contest fought on sensational internal issues is of most intense interest to voters of the state and political observers outside.

PEPPER BILL TAXING NATIONAL BANKS PASSED

Washington, March 23.—(UP)—The Pepper bill authorizing state taxation of national banks was passed today by the house. The Pepper bill, which had already passed the senate, was substituted for the similar McFadden bill, passed by the house.

ROBBED OF $12,000 HE AMASSED AS SOLDIER OF FORTUNE

Kansas City, Mo., March 23.—(UP)—Robbed of $12,000 he had amassed as a soldier of fortune in Mexico, Albert Morin, 28, walked into police headquarters here today and identified himself as a thief wanted in Windsor, Canada.

Brunette Eleanor Boardman Blonde in "Only Thing"

The screen has a new blonde heroine. This time a famed brunette beauty, none other than Eleanor Boardman, donned a golden wig to appear in Elinor Glyn's production of "The Only Thing" as a golden-haired princess.

The role of the Princess in "The Only Thing" is one of Madame Glyn's most important and alluring heroines. The story was written directly for the screen, and with Miss Boardman in mind from the very beginning as the living personification of the leading feminine character. The finished production is coming to the Lyceum theatre on Thursday and Friday.

Tonight's Vaudeville Bill at the New Park

Miss La Petite will open a new bag of tricks, that will keep the audience on edge for 10 minutes.

Morlen and Mason a musical team is one of the best acts of its kind offered this season. Their specialty is playing the accordion and violin, and singing. Lots of good comedy is offered by Mr. Morlen on the accordion.

The third act is a corking good dance act, entitled "Carmen and Dardan Revue" two men and two women, whistling and other solos are also offered which add variety to the act. A beautiful set and stunning costumes are used.

Al and Mary Royce are a comedy team who are a scream. The female with boxing gloves is a riot.

The last act is "The Robbins Trio" two men and one woman. This act will offer the finest roller skating act ever seen in the city. They do some wonderful stunts. The feature picture is Katherine McDonald in "Chastity."

DRINKING STUDENTS UNDER SOCIAL BAN FOR REST OF YEAR

Adrian, Mich., March 23.—(UP)—Ten Adrian college students, suspended until after Easter for drinking at a dance given by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, "will be under a social ban" for the rest of the academic year, it was said at the office of the president today.

President H. L. Freeman commended the sorority for unanimously passing a resolution, which charged the offending guests were "guilty of gigantic disrespect" and said "in this entire matter the sorority acted in a most honorable and praiseworthy manner."

Suspension of the 10 students resulted when the matter was brought to the attention of college authorities by the sorority's resolution.

Ramsey County State Bank Closed. St. Paul, March 23.—(UP)—The Ramsey County State Bank here was closed today by A. J. Veigel, state banking commissioner. Frozen assets were blamed. Deposits of approximately $1,300,000 are involved. Peter Manderfeld is president of the institution.

EXTENSION OF BARGE LINE IS ABANDONED

Washington, March 23.—(UP)—Proposals for extending the projected upper Mississippi river barge line to Cairo, Ill., were withdrawn today by representatives of the Upper Mississippi Barge corporation in a conference with Secretary of War Davis.

George Lambret and W. W. Morse of Minneapolis, representing the corporation, requested Davis' support for a $1,000,000 government appropriation for additional equipment on the line between St. Louis and St. Paul.

NEW YORK BOXING BOARD IS CONSISTENT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

Many well based reasons can be found for criticizing the policies and rulings of the New York Boxing commission but it must be admitted that the board has become a very consistent body.

"That's our story and we'll stick to it," seems to be a new motto from which no deviation will be tolerated.

The commission held out against one of the best organized and energetically pushed newspaper and public campaigns for the amendment of the rule that prohibits smoking in boxing clubs ever pressed. Tex Rickard installed a ventilating apparatus at the cost of $150,000 in the hope that his patrons could smoke.

He quoted the fire laws as showing his new Garden to be fireproof, showed the reports of medical experts that smoking was not a menace to health or comfort, and mentioned incidentally that the attendance had fallen off twenty per cent. But the commission refused to be moved and the rule stands.

Under a previous administration, Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills were ordered to sign articles of agreement to meet for the world's heavyweight championship and they did. Nothing came of it, however, as the Duke of Muldoon had to back up and tell the boys unofficially that it couldn't be done.

When the argument came up again the commission ordered Dempsey to sign another agreement accepting the challenge of Wills and Jack Kearns, who was then handling the affairs of the champion, argued that the agreement already had been signed and was on file.

"Sign again!" the commission ordered and when he protested he was set down and Dempsey was placed on the ineligible list. There was some complaint that Dempsey should have been suspended and that his title should have been vacated as was done in the case of several other champions who didn't want to fight.

The commission pointed out, however, that Dempsey's license had expired and that neither he nor his title were under the jurisdiction of the commission until he had his license renewed and that his license wouldn't be renewed until he agreed to fight Wills.

Dempsey has used a lot of influence to get permission to meet Gene Tunney before he fights Wills and although it is a public conviction that Wills never will be allowed to fight the champion the commission has refused.

Orders were issued that any promoter, manager or fighter who talked to Dempsey about a match before he was restored to good standing would be shot at sunrise but Wills went right out west and signed an agreement to meet Dempsey under the promotion of Floyd Fitzsimmons. Wills was not disciplined because the commission does not believe that any real articles were signed.

Another rather arbitrary stand was taken in the case of Tommy Milligan, the European welterweight champion. Milligan was picked by the commission as the next opponent for Mickey Walker and then proceeded to get himself licked by George Levine.

The claim was made that Milligan should forfeit his standing in favor of Joe Dundee, a better fighter from Baltimore.

But the commission ruled: "Walker must fight Milligan and he must fight him on May 7."

And that's that.

W. DESMOND TAYLOR MURDER MYSTERY MAY SOON BE SOLVED

gation of the William Desmond Taylor murder case.

"I cannot disclose the nature of my visit to Chicago, just yet," Keyes told the United Press upon his arrival. "What I told your correspondent in Detroit stands and there nothing to be added."

Keyes indicated his stay in Chicago would be brief and that he would return to Los Angeles, "just as soon as possible."

By BERT M. DEMBY

United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, March 23.—The murder of William Desmond Taylor has narrowed down to two motives, love and drugs, and the slayer may be in the clutches of the law within a very short time, Asa G. Keyes, prosecuting attorney of Los Angeles, told the United Press in an interview today.

"Our trip east," Keyes said, "has been wonderfully successful and if our ideas at present pan out we will have the solution of the crime in a very short time."

"We have learned several important things that gave given the case an entirely different aspect since we went east."

Keyes and H. L. Davis, chief of the homicide department of the Los Angeles county attorney's office, stopped over here today after an extended trip to New York, during which time they questioned Mary Miles Minter and several other persons, who they thought might know something of the crime.

"Miss Minter was very nice to us about answering questions and I am sure that she is doing all in her power to help us in solving the case," Keyes said. "We tried to get in touch with Mabel Normand, while we were in New York, but we failed to do so. I have never yet been able to talk to Miss Normand, but I want to."

The multitude of clues which have sent police of the nation scurrying hither and yon for a possible motive to the murder have narrowed down to two things, Keyes said.

"Either dope or love is behind the murder of Taylor," he said. "As yet we are not ready to make public what we know. We have brought the case down little by little to where it is and a short time ago we eliminated the 'perversion' angle, which had bothered investigators since the murder. Now we know it is either dope or love."

Diamond Cutting Old Art

The Chinese claim to have been the first to discover a means of cutting diamonds, but some authorities believe the Indians practiced the art earlier. Pliny mentions that diamonds were polished by the Romans in his day with the aid of emery.
